MEETING OF THE GRAND LODGE.

The Debt on the Masonic Temple Nearly Paid and the Asylum Fund in Good Order, The one hundred and seventh annual sesion of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted ns in the State of New York will be held in the Masonic Hall to-morrow afternoon. The various reports to be presented will show the fraternity of the State to be in a most prosperous and harmonious condition. Initiations during the year have been unusually large, and the net result shows a decided gain in both numbers and influence. The receipts from all sources during the past year were $100,248.93, and the dispursements for the same period amounted to $70,288.68, leaving a cash balance in hand of $29,960.25 During the year the work of paying the debt upon the hall has been continued, and many lodges not before actively engaged are now triving to discharge their share of the obligation. Three years ago the debt was about $491,000; two years ago it was about $100,000 less than that; a year ago it amounted to $185,000, while now it is known to be considerless than that; a year ago it amounted to $185,000, while now it is known to be considerably less than $100,000. More than four hundred lodges have paid their proportion of the debt in full, and are now exempt from the burdens entailed thereby; while one-half of the remainder have made payments upon account. All the lodges located in the following cities have paid in full: Brocklyn, Troy, Albany, Utica, Syracuse, Rochester, Binghamton, Ithaea, Ogdensburgh, Rome, Auburn, Newburgh, and Lockport, In this city one hundred and filty, out of a total of one hundred and filty, out of a total of one hundred and filty-soven, lodges are free and clear, One of the important matters to come before the Grand Lodge will be the question of dealing with those lodges that can pay but won't.

Much competition exists between various parts of the State for the location of the asylum. Besides the places alrendy announced, Binghamton, Lockbort, Rome, and Auburn have made liberal ofters. The citizens of Utica are preparing propositions which are expected to be very generous, while from the city of thace comes an ofter, headed by ex-Gov. Alonzo B. Cornell, of 200 acres of land near the university building. The facilities of ithnea as an educational centre give it considerable advantages, The only thing absolutely settled about the location of the asylum is that it will not be near the city of New York, When the fund was started in 1843 it was understood that the hall should be in this city and the asylum in the interior, and this understanding will be carried out.

During December of last year the fair held in

in the interior, and this understanding will be carried out.

During December of last year the fair held in Masonic Hall yielded, after the resyment of all expenses, $78,352,37, of which $75,000 was placed in the hands of the Grand Master, and with its increase will be paid to the trustees, immediately on the completion of the payment of the debt, to be used in building the asylum. The Chairmen of some of the more important committees have, as is customary, been appointed in advance of the session, and are as follows: On Warrants, Past Grand Master James W. Husted; on Finance, Fast Grand Master Jesses II, Anthony; on Jurisprudence, Past Grand Master Jesses II, Anthony; on Jurisprudence, Past Grand Master Edmund L. Judson; on Hall and Asylum, Charles W. Camp of Lockport; on Constitution and Statutes, Myron W. Van Auken of Utica, and Special Committee on the Asylum, Past Grand Master W. A. Brodie of Geneseo.

LEPERS IN CANADA

The Patients at Tracidle, N. B., Reduced to 17-One Escaped to the United States.

OTTAWA, June 3 .- At the present moment there are seventeen leprous patients confined in the lazaretto at Tracidie, New Brunswick eight males and nine females. During the past year three deaths occurred from the disease. while one escaped to the United States, where probably the seeds of the disease may be sown o raise up a colony of these unfortunate beings. Three new cases were admitted from the adjoining parishes. During the past year the physician in charge reports to the Government that, hearing of two suspected cases at Caraquet, he visited the locality, and discovered that the two young persons, who had endeavored to conceal the fact, were afflicted with deavored to conceal the fact, were afflicted with leprosy in its earlier stages, and their removal to the lazaretto was ordered immediately. The sundering of the family ties, so hard to bear, the officer in charge says is frequently an obstacle in the way of prompt segregation. With three exceptions all known cases in the province are now in the lazaretto.

Attention is drawn to the fact that while the original number of immates was forty, it has been reduced now to under one-half that number, unmistakably pointing out the gradual original number of immates was forty, it has been reduced now to under one-half that number, unmistakably pointing out the gradual diminution of the loathsome disease. The medical officer reports that a male patient who was discharged as cured two years ago remains free from the disease and is employed at manual labor about the buildings. This cure, as well as that of a young female patient, the attending physician attributes mainly to the excellent hygienic influences of the institution before the disease had made any serious introds on vigorous constitutions. He believes that had those patients remained at home in poverly they would now be confirmed lepers.

Of the whole number now confined in the institution, only two are obliged to remain in bed. The remainder, including four in the advanced stage of the disease, appear contented and free from suffering incident to a malady which runs such a fearful course of corruption and mutilation. One of the male patients is a confirmed limatic, and frequently gives way to violent outbursts of massion. The authorities appear to be badly cut up over the escape of one of the patients to the United States, but endeavor to clear themselves of the responsibility on the ground that every precaution to prevent such an occurrence had been taken.

WAS A DEAD MAN ROBBED?

The Valuables of Mr. Haynes, Who Died

Suddenly, Cannot be Found. MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., June 3 .- The Philadelphia authorities have been called upon to investigate an affair that casts deep reproach upon the fame of the city. Edwin M. Haynes, wealthy and widely-known cheese manufacturer of the neighboring town of Oxford, visited the city a few days ago on business, and while there was stricken with apoplexy, and died instantly, in the dining room of the hotel at which he was staying. The body was sent to the City Morgue, and the family was notified of the event by telegraph. A son of the deceased man went on and claimed the body, and brought it home to Oxford for burial.

It is known that Mr. Haynes carried a valuable gold watch, and it is believed that he had upen his person when he died a large sum of money. Neither watch nor money, except an inconsiderable sum in small change, was turned over to the son, and the property is still missing. The hotel people disclaim any knowledge of the valuables, and say that the city efficials, who took charge of the remains immediately after death, are the persons to look to for an explanation. The ambulance and Morgue officers deny that the missing valuables over came into their hands. Friends of the deceased man have gone to Philadelphia to push the investigation. the city a few days ago on business, and while

Killed by a Jenious Husband. COBTLAND, N. Y., June 3.-Melville Frieze of Richford is dead of a gunshet wound and Alfred Taylor of Lapeer was committed to the county jail at this place yesterday on the charge of murder. Both were respectable young men about 30 years of age. Taylor has a wife, while Frieze was a single man. They lived near each other in Richford last year, and Taylor became jealous of Frieze's attentions to his wife, and the two had a violent quarrel, during which, it is said, Taylor threatened to shoot Frieze at sight unless the latter kept away from his house.

On Thursday afternoon Taylor and a companion, who had been out hunting, and who had a loaded rifle in his hands, were sitting together in a grocery store at Harford Mills, when Frieze entered the store. Some new scandal had come to the husband's ears that day, it is said, in connection with Frieze's intimacy with his wife, and the sight of the alleged destroyer of his domestic neace seemed to madden him. He jumped up and snatched the rifle out of his companion's hands, and fired at Frieze. The builet struck his victim in the left breast, just above the heart, and passed through his body and out at his back. The wound was mortal, and death followed a few hours later.

Taylor was arrested at once and brought her to jail. He expresses no contrition for the crime, and refuses to talk about it. He has wealthy relatives, who profess to believe that he has been greatly wronged, and who will assist in his defence.

Bridgeport Intends to Celebrate. BRIDGEPORT, June 3 .- The Fourth of July celebration in Bridgeport will be the biggest ever known in the State. Meetings have been held every night for a month by the various committees in charge. On the evening of July 8 a grand marine demonstration will take place in the harbor. All the steamboats, oyster boats, yachts, and sailing craft along the coast will take part. Each vessel will be supplied with fireworks by the committee, a big fund having already been raised for the purpose. There will be at least 1,000 boats in line.

On Independence Day the civic and military organizations of the city will pourade, and the numbers will be increased by out-ot-town organizations. Nearly every society in the city has invited sister societies, and the Fourth Regiment of the State militia will be on hand. The manufacturers and merchants will join the procession with an industrial parade. Thousands of dollars have been raised for fireworks. committees in charge. On the evening of July

BLIND POLICE IN DIVISION STREET. The Only Bonnet Store They Could See De-ing Business was at 23

Detective Thomas Stapleton arraigned a pretty young girl before Justice Patterson in the Essex Market Police Court yesterday mornused for violations of the Excise law, and taking it for a case of that kind the Justice's blue eyes glanced with an astonished look at the gentle prisoner. "You are accused of violating the Excise law," he said. "What have you to say?" The young girl was too astonished at the charge to speak. Justice Patterson turned again to the complaint. "I beg your pardon," he said quickly:

plaint. "I beg your pardon," he said quickly;
"it is a hat which you are accused of selling and not a drink. What have you to say to that?"

"The women will have hats." the young girl murmured, without looking up.

"Well, officer, what did she do?"
"She sold a hat to a customer and I arrested her." Here the detective offered a letter to the Justice, which he said was a complaint sent to the police about the store.

"I don't want to see that at all," said Justice Patterson, brushing it aside; "I want the facts."
The prisoner is a hat maker in the millinery store of Seyler & Porges, 23 and 23% Division street.

street.
"We sold ninety hats yesterday," said Mrs. "We sold ninety hats yesterday," said Mrs. Porges, one of the proprietors. "and I asked the girls to get around early to-day to make up stock. Sarah Dangs was the first one there, and a short while after she came a woman came in to get a ribbon put on her hat. The detective came in at the same time, and I supposed he was with her. Sarah fixed the hat. It cost $1, and as soon as the woman paid for it and went out the detective arrested Sarah. I suppose the letter was sent by a business rival."

"I will hold the prisoner in $50 bail to answer," said the Justice. "It is a violation of law to do business openly on Sunday. You can seil all you want to on Sunday legally if you do it in private and keep your doors shut." Mrs. Porges went the girl's bail.

After court a SUN reporter walked through Division street. From one end of the millinery section to the other stores were running wide open and every one was doing business.

IPS GREAT TO BE A POLICEMAN. Even on Your Vacation You Can Arrest

The vacation of Policeman James Grier of the Prince street station has not been a round of uninterrupted pleasure. He sacrificed half a day of it yesterday to arraign before Justice O'Reilly in the Jefferson Market Police Court Thomas Welch, a mechanic, of 227 West Sixteenth street, and his wife Mary. He declared that while he was in a restaurant in Sixth avenue, near Twenty-ninth street, he saw Welch enue, near Twenty-ninth street, he saw Welch and his wife acting in a disorderly manner, and tried to make them behave themselves. He said that Mrs. Welch called him names, and that when he attempted to arrest her she and her husband assaulted him. He showed his Derby hat with part of the top smashed in, and said that Mrs. Welch had hit it with a glass.

Mrs. Welch and her husband had a very different version of what occurred in the restaurant. They said that Grier rode up town on the surface car in which they were riding, and that he made insulting remarks about Mrs. Welch. He seemed to be partly drunk. He followed them into the restaurant, and sat near them, and called Mrs. Welch a vile name. Mr. Welch spoke up for his wife, and Grier threatened to arrest both of them. Mrs. Welch exhibited a discolored nose, and declared that Grier.

"What were you doing in the restaurant, officer?" Justice O'Reilly asked.

"Getting a cup of coffee."

"You look as if that coffee must have been very strong. What were you doing up there out of your precipet?"

"I was not on duty. I was on my way home."

"Where do you live?"

"In west Seventeenth street."

"You didn't have to go up to Twenty-ninth street to get over to West Seventeenth street.

ONE DRINK MORE-ONLY ONE.

It's Got to Last the Old Man a Year, and Billy Mergan Weuldn't Like to Pay for It. James Walker of 329 West Twenty-sixth street, a septuagenarian who has squandered a good little business in drink, was before Justice O'Reilly in Jefferson Market yesterday on complaint of his wife, who said she wanted to have him put where he couldn't get any liquor. James pleaded hard with his aged spouse for James rleaded hard with his agod spouse for mercy, and she softened and said she would withdraw the complaint against him if he would "swear off" for a year. He said he would, conditionally.

"What is the condition?" the Justice asked.

"That I be allowed to take one drink to-day—only one, your Honor; only one drink," said the old man.

"I'll consent to that," the gentle old wife remarked.

"I'll consent to that," the gentle old wife remarked.

"Kiss the book, old man," said the Justice,
"James's white head bent over the soiled volume.

"Now, you solemnly swear, so help you God, to abstain from all intoxicating drink for a year?"

"Yes, your Honor—yes, yes—after I have had had—one drink to-day."

As Billy Morgan took the name of the aged tippler he remarked: "I wouldn't like to pay for that drink."

If Moskopf Had Produced Them He'd Hardly Mave Been Held for Larceny. Victor Moskopf, a refined-looking, brown-bearded, spectacled Russian of 199 Montague street, Brooklyn, was charged in Jefferson Market yesterday with embezzling $2.40 from the Union Benefit League, a mutual insurance association. The manager of the League, John A. Dur-land, was the complainant. He said that Mos-kopf had collected the money and failed to kopf had collected the money and failed to turn it over to him.

Moskopf declared with much vehemence that the Union Borelit League was in trouble, and that State Superintendent of Insurance Maxweil had ordered him. Moskopf, in writing, not to turn over any moneys to Durland until the settlement of the trouble.

Durland told Justice O'Reilly that the League was all right. He said that Moskopf was one of a set of conspirators, who were sub-agents under him, that had determined to ruin the League. He averred that Moskopf had been arrested in the home of an ex-convict. Moskopf was held for trial.

No Oration in the Holy Cross Cemetery.

About 500 members of the G. A. R., representing Cushing, Rankin, Devin, Frank Head, Perry, Doans, Odell, Winchester, Grant, and McKenzie posts, decorated the graves of dead soldiers in the Cemetery of the Holy Cross at soliners in the Cemetery of the Holy Cross at Flatbush resterday. Bishop Laughlin has hitherto discountenanced military services over the graves in Roman Catholic cemeteries, and yesterday he forbade the delivery of any ora-tion. An address was to have been made by United States District Attorney Walber, but in view of the Bishop's prohibition this portion of the programme was omitted. The record of the dead soldiers was read and the national anthem was sung.

She Died in Church on a Sunday. Mrs. Annie M. Masset, an aged widow, who lived with her son in law, John S. Baker, and his family in 608 East Stateonth street, died in church yesterday morning. In company with her 8-year-old grandaughter Mrs. Masset went to the morning service in St. Mary Mag-daien's Roman Catholic Church, 525 East Seventeenth street. She was the years old and feeble, but her general health was good. About the middle of the service her breath breath coming heavily, and her head dropped treath breath catholic shoulder. Father Reinhardt had her carried in the shoulder Father Reinhardt had her carried in the shoulder and the brandy, but she did not recover, and she was dead when physicians who had been sent for arrived.

is more general at this season than any other. The bitter taste, offensive breath, coated tongue, sick head-sche, drowsiness, dixriness, and loss of appetite make the victim miserable and disagreeable to others. Hood's saparilla combines the best anti-billous remedies of the vegetable kingdom in such proportion as to derive their best medicinal effects without the least disturb-ance to the whole system. Starts upon the alimentary canal, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach, the bowels, and the circulation of the blood, and brings about a healthy action of the entire human organism, restore the appetite, and overcomes that tired feeling.

Dyspepsia and Malaria

"I had been sick for several years, being troubled chiefly with dyspensia and malaris. I had medical attendance, but only grew worse, until one day in February my wife brought me a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which seems to have entirely cured me, as I nave not been troubled by any aliment since taking it "—JOHN ERSKINE, Chillicothe, Ohio.

When You Sell Liquor to a Disguised Po-William McKenzie, a saloon keeper of 195 Chambers street, was Policeman Holloway's prisoner before Justice Murray in the Tombs Court vesterday. "I've been a victim of misplaced confidence," said Saloonkeeper McKenzie. "I had opened my saloon door shortly after 9 o'clock to go out nto the street with my youngsters. As I did so, a man, who I supposed was the engineer from across the street came over and asked for a drink. I did not think it was much harm. and gave it to him. After the man had drank, and gave it to him. After the man had drank, he told me he wanted me to come with him to the police station. I think the police might be in better business than tempting citizens to violate the law."

"But you'd have given it to the engineer, and that would have been a violation of law." Justice Murray replied. "As it was it was not misplaced confidence, only bad judgment. You'll have to give buil for trial."

"I don't see why I am made a scapegoat of," the saloon proprietor aided, "You can go anywhere within two blocks and get all the drink you wan,"

"But the police havn't caught the other peo-ple," Justice Murray replied.
"They don't want to," the proprietor of the saloon replied.

EIGHT PRISONERS OUT OF NINE LET GO. The Raid in West Twenty-second Street

Results Like Most Others. Six young women without the usual traces of dissipation that mark the faces of the unfortunates who appear in the police courts, were arrayed before Justice O'Reilly at Jefferson Market yesterday, charged with being inmates of the disorderly house at 104 West Twenty-second street. Behind the young women, all of whom were modestly dressed, were two young men who said they were Henry Stephenson and John Harrington, guests at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. They were in the house when it was raised. The tailer young man was elegantly dressed, carried a cane and wore a dainty bloud bang. He was pretty well-filled with while when arrested, and roundly asserted that he was a neshew of Bishop Potter. The did not repeat that averment in court. These was no eldence against either the young women or the young men, and they were discharged, Jane Howard, the keeper of the house, was held in $400 bail. Little Abe Hummel at pactured for her, and Michael Hummel of 207 Last Seventeenth street, gave bail for her appearance at Special Sessions. Stephenson and John Harrington, guests at

The Course to be Taken by the Brooklen

The Brooklyn Central Labor Union was informed yesterday that the bass brewers were not taking the men who struck back to work. which, it was said, was a violation of a pledge made to the Central Labor Union when it lifted the boycott in Brookivn. A few delegates were in faver of replacing the boycott. Those who opposed this action said it behooved the Brooklyn Central Labor Union to centinue worthy of the goed opinion of the public and not to unite with the majority in the New York Central Labor Union, and thus work harm to labor. A motion to have a list prepared showing how many of the locked-out men had been taken back into the brewerles was passed. If this list shows that the bosses have not reinstated their old hands as far as practicable, the unions represented in the Central Labor Union will be asked to vote on the question of replacing the boycott. in favor of replacing the boycott. ent a notice to the Coroner's office vesterday morning sent a notice to the Coroner's office yealerday morning saying that Johanna Schlesinger of 610 East Sixth street had died suddenly, and that an autopsy was desirable. Mrs. Schlesinger was a midwife, and lived with her sam. Dr. Weisserger was called to see her at 2 o'clock on Saturday and again at 8. At it she died. "Her symptoms,' said he last night," were of restricts but I was surprised at death taking place so quickly. Coroner Lishman made an autopsy this afternoon, and found no suspicious indications."

What were the Signs of Insanity? Harry M. Hall, a seedy-looking, dark-featured cafe on Saturday night, ordered and drank a bottle of care on Saturday night, ordered and drains decide of wine, and semoked several choice cicars. He started to go out without paying his bid, and, naturally, was collared by ferective Jacobs. He told Justice of Beilty in Jefferson Market yes/erday that he was a guest of the house. Detective Rogers said he was a strainer, and evidently somewhat daft. He was committed for examination as to his sanity.

Catarrh to Consumption. Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singu-lar that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of medical knowledge have weakened the condence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised reme-dies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palifactives. But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage, and compated with all our might. In many case the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, tho uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutions

Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical, and never-failing.

Rach package contains one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and an IM-PROVED INHALER, with treatise; price $1.
